

Dietmar K. Caudle has been a sole practitioner for more than 30 years in the general practice of law in Lawton, Oklahoma. He received his law degree at Oklahoma City University College of Law in 1976; with an undergraduate B.A. degrees at Oklahoma University in 1971; Associate Arts Degree at Cameron College in 1969. Service includes the Comanche County Bar Association President in 2003; Campaign Chairman for Legal Aid, Western District in 2004; Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Salvation Army, 1983 – 1984; Vice President of the Lawton Country Club in 2004; Governor 9th Judicial District; OBA Board of Governors 2005 – 2007; Member of the Client Security Fund 2008 to present; Member of the Professionalism Committee; Lawyer member/Judge of the Professional Responsibility Tribunal 2009 to present; Chairman of the Military Assistance Task Force, 2010 to present; Charter Benefactor Fellow of the Oklahoma Bar Foundation; Trustee of the Oklahoma Bar Foundation 2009 to present; Secretary/Treasurer of the Oklahoma Bar Foundation 2011; Member of the American Bar Association; Member of Association of Trial Lawyers; Member of the Oklahoma Trial Lawyers Association; Member of the National District Attorneys Association. Admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court since 2004; United States District Court, Western District since 1976; Court of Indian Offenses; Assistant District Attorney, Wichita Kansas 1976 - 1979. Recipient of the Pro Bono Public Award, Comanche County and The Student Training Award (Step Program) by the Oklahoma Young Lawyers Association. Caudle is married to Camilla and has two adult daughters.